Ryze Technology is a tech startup established in 2017 based in Shenzhen, China. Our goal is to make drone flying fun and exciting. We also believe play is a big part of learning, and learning about drones can also be fun and entertaining. These were the ideas behind our first product, Tello. Powered by a DJI flight control system and an Intel processor, Tello combines industry-leading technology and entertainment into an easy-to-use drone. Due to the compact size, Tello is easy to take anywhere. For those into speed and adrenalin, Tello also supports Smartphone VR Headsets, giving users an extra reason to fly and to dial up the fun. To facilitate learning, an integrated Scratch programming system in Tello's companion app allows kids, teens, and even adults to learn the basics of coding while having fun.
