SYNOPSIS: Kate Carter works in Oklahoma with storm chasers Javi, Addy, Praveen, and her boyfriend, Jeb. Alongside a Dorothy V doppler, the team launches barrels of sodium polyacrylate beads into a tornado in hopes of reducing its intensity and securing funding for further research. However, the amount of chemicals is insufficient to stop it and the crew is caught in the middle as it intensifies into an EF5. Javi watches from a distance as Addy, Praveen, and Jeb are blown away and killed, as a traumatized Kate survives.

Five years later, Kate works at a NOAA office in New York City. Javi, working for mobile tornado radar company Storm Par, offers Kate a one-week position with his team to test a new tornado scanning system using phased-array radar. Kate initially declines but later has a change of heart after Javi sends a news report about a tornado destroying a town without warning and assuring her that they have a chance to save lives. Kate and Javi join the Storm Par team in Oklahoma, which includes Javi's business partner Scott. Popular YouTube storm chaser Tyler Owens, known as the "Tornado Wrangler", also arrives in Oklahoma from Arkansas looking to capitalize on a predicted tornado outbreak. Tyler is joined by his crew of Boone, Dani, Dexter, and Lily, as well as British journalist Ben.

Storm Par and Tyler's crew chase an EF1 tornado that has touched down in a nearby wind farm. Kate suffers a panic attack causing her to drive away, rendering her unable to help Javi set up the final scanner. The team tracks another storm which produces another EF1, that also produces a satellite that splits off. Storm Par chases the Satellite after noticing that it is intensifying, but as it reaches EF3 strength, it takes out the third scanner. Kate and Javi barely escape and drive to the nearby tornado-ravaged town of Crystal Springs to help recovery efforts, along with Tyler's crew. Having dismissed Tyler and his team as glory hounds, Kate is surprised to learn they use merchandise profits to aid tornado victims, while Storm Par investor Marshall Riggs profiteers by purchasing tornado-damaged land.

Tyler invites Kate to a nearby rodeo in Stillwater, where they begin bonding. When a large EF4 tornado hits, Kate leads Tyler and nearby residents to shelter in an empty motel pool. In the aftermath, Kate confronts Javi about Riggs' intentions and claims Javi is ignorant to the victims, causing offense to Javi who thoughtlessly blames Kate for their friends' deaths. Distraught, Kate retreats to her mother's farm in Sapulpa. Tyler follows and uncovers Kate's previous research regarding the tornado disruption experiment. Kate initially declines Tyler's offer to help retry the experiment but later accepts. The next day, they release the beads into a passing EF1 tornado, but it fails to dissipate. Using scanning data provided by an apologetic Javi, Kate hypothesizes a change in the experiment to correct a previous oversight, namely adding silver iodide.

The team tracks another tornado developing near El Reno. Javi and Scott are nearly killed but they escape just as the tornado catches fire after hitting an oil refinery. The tornado explodes in size becoming a mile-wide EF5 that begins shifting towards El Reno. Javi attempts to rush into town to help Kate and the Wranglers recovery efforts, but Scott pressures him to continue their mission for Riggs. Javi abandons Scott by the road and quits his partnership with Riggs.

With all shelters full, Kate, Tyler, and their team evacuate the townsfolk into a nearby movie theater. A derailed streetcar and debris traps Tyler and Kate struggles to free him. Javi arrives just in time to help save Tyler before a water tower nearly collapses on them. With no basement to take shelter and the tornado heading straight for the theater, Kate drives Tyler's truck into the tornado's center. She fires the silver iodide into the tornado, and after a brief struggle with the controls, she successfully launches the polyacrylate beads, but the vehicle is overturned. The tornado rips the theater open, nearly pulling Lily and Tyler out just as the measures take effect, and the tornado dissipates. The team rescues Kate and celebrates the experiment's success.

Sometime later, as Kate waits at the airport for her flight back to New York to gain funding for further research, Tyler shows up. Tyler chases Kate to stop her from leaving and they reconcile. Upon learning that flights have been delayed because of strong winds, the two swiftly depart for the storm. A closing montage shows that Ben's story focused on Kate and that Kate, Tyler, and Javi have joined in a new tornado radar business.
